

This video starts with a referee, who is male (but could be female), coming out to the mat to meet up with two teams of wrestlers - both consisting of a young man and a young woman. The two large athletic women - who we will call the blonde and the brunette (which are temporary names that should be changed to the actual names of the ladies picked to wrestle) - nearly match their male opponents in size, and match them in being bare on the upper body as well!

"This is a long fight which will be fought for a significant monetary prize, and the highlights will be released on a video. Are we ready to fight?" asks the referee.

The two groups agree.

"Then, " says the referee, "let's start with mixed bear hug challenge. Please get into position."

Each man and woman of the opposing teams meet each other at opposite side of the mat - kneeling down. There seems to be erotic tension between the wrestlers.

The referee continued. "We will have two matches go on at the same time for a limited time. If one team submits before the other, then the other team wins. If neither team wins, then the winning team will need to be determined between the two women in what we call a "sex-hug wrestling" match. But I'll review the rules to that later. For now, remember that in a long mutual bear hug, sometimes it's good to hug, and other times it's good to rest. No defense is allowed except the bear hug itself! In this challenge, and the sex-hug challenge too for that matter, passing out will automatically lose you the game. So don't be stubborn and tap out when you need too! May the best team win. Begin!" With that, the referee started a timer.

The wrestlers start wrestling - grappling to get a good bear hug on the other. The best bear hug seems to be where you have your arms under your opponent's arms.

Finally both sets of wrestlers are locked in a mutual bear hug!

The video dissolves on various angles of the action to show the passage of time. The wrestlers try to get a good position on each other - each trying to dig his or her chest into the other's diaphragm to cause numbing pain, and difficult breathing. The women, being slightly shorter than the guys, seem to have an advantage in this position. Each wrestler tries to grapple to get his or her arms under the other's arms - sometimes sliding an arm under the other's arm.

It is early in the match, and the wrestlers hug each other with all their might - moaning and groaning. But no one submits.

Finally we see that a wrestler stop hugging, and it's hard to tell if that wrestler is overwhelmed and ready to submit, or just taking a rest. We see both a male and a female wrestler like this.

Both the other male and female wrestlers tire from hugging, and they start to rest as their opponents sense their weakness and hug them back harder.

As the match progresses, all the wrestlers seem to tire - slinging their heads over each other's shoulders, or throwing their heads back. They seem focused to hug and breathe slow, although the breathing seems at times to be uneasy.

From over the men's shoulders, both women notice each other, and stare lustily into each other's eyes from a distance.

As all the wrestlers tire, most seem to need to close their eyes to focus on their battle.

We see camera angles that rotate around both pairs of wrestlers. They are tired, stubborn, aggressive, and sexy in their mutual embraces. Each embrace is like a lover's embrace, except that chest and breast are being aggressively ground into each other.

Finally a timer goes off, and the tired wrestlers part. All look tired.

The referee comes out again, and says "Good. You have all fought well. You brave women have shown great endurance, and you men have shown that while you are not inferior with your great upper body strength - it did not make you superior either. The women had a great position to dig their chests into your diaphragms and cause you pain and difficult breathing. But you all seemed to know that it is better to let yourself feel the sensuality of the hug, rather than the pain. Now it is up to the women to finish this fight. Are you up to it ladies?"

The women agree.

"You will continue to try to bear hug each other into submission." says the referee. "For a long but limited time you will be allowed to wrestle this last challenge. You may gain one point ONLY by submitting the other in a bear hug while pinning your opponent and sexually hip-thrusting into her. She may submit to either the power of your hug, or the power of your thrusting!"

The women look at each other with lust in their eyes.

The referee continued. "If neither of you are able to submit the other this way, or if you have an even score at the end of the match, the winner will be declared as the last person to have pinned the other! This means pinning the shoulder blades and/or buttocks. You can defend yourself by using a submission hold. For instance, you can squeeze your opponent's neck with the inside elbow of one arm. Choking is not always allowed at DWW. For safety, you are not allowed to use two arms for choking!"

Both women nod in agreement.

The referee continues. "If you are ahead in points, you may immobilize your opponent to stay ahead that way. She can submit to this, but that will put her another point behind, as it awards you a point. Also, you can win the whole match IMMEDIATELY by knocking your opponent out in a choke hold or a bear hug! Therefore, you should not be too stubborn if you find yourself wanting to submit to such a hold, or if you find yourself being pleased by sexual asphyxia. Remember there is a danger to that pleasure! Now - if everything I've explained is understood, you may strip now, and meet each other on the mat."

The two women begin to take what little they are wearing completely off. They both look confident. They come to meet each other on the mat, hovering very close to each other, breathing almost lip-to-lip - their breasts brushing together. Both women's look of confidence seems to melt away as their eyes meet. They both look both excited and fearful toward each other now. Their hearts beat in erotic anticipation of each other, and both take deep breaths.

The referee continues. "It is normal to feel lust now. This match will allow you to tap into your sexual energies. It will allow you to fight the way you both desire to fight, and as such it will be a more honest fight."

Both wrestlers listen to the referee intently - starting to look more serious and focussed now.

The referee continues. "You may stimulate her to weakness, but you may find yourself being stimulated to weakness at the same time. Or to strength. You will find out. Now, you may begin." The referee starts the timer.

Slowly the two wrestlers take each other in a mutual standing bear hug. Both moan orgasmically as if their touch has released something pent up in them. They swing their heads backwards as they focus on thrusting their hugs into each other.

Now they are cheek-to-cheek, continuing their mutual hug. Both seem to have an equal position on the other.

The blonde releases her hug and lets herself rest and absorb the punishment.

The brunette starts to tire and releases her hug, while the blonde takes to hugging back again.

The brunette takes the blonde in a headlock and pins her - starting the combination of pin, bear hug, and sexual hip-thrusting that is known as the "sex-hug".

The blonde seems shocked, and yet she does not seem to weaken at this early stage in the match. She allows herself to simply enjoy the sexual nature of her opponent's attack on her, and waits to see if the brunette tires.

The action is long and amazing! The women trade many sex-hugs with each other, rolling from time to time to reverse a pin. They use the one-armed choke to reverse the pin. Other times they use it to submit the other in defense - requiring both wrestlers to stand and start wrestling again. Both women seem to be trying to psych each other out, looking deeply and lustily into each other's eyes as they wrestle - and trying to distract each other with passionate kisses that often make the kissed woman's eyes roll back in her head. Sometimes the pinning wrestler will have the same effect on the pinned wrestler as she attempts to sexually asphyxiate her opponent - choking and sexually pleasuring the pinned wrestler at the same time.

After much time, both wrestlers look like they are getting tired. Sometimes a wrestler will stop just to take a rest - often while being bear hugged by her opponent. Neither wrestler is having an easy time gaining points through the bear hug, however.

The last part of the match is fought much like the first, except it is slower. The wrestlers are getting tired and sexually distracted - both having experienced more than one orgasm. They are glossy-eyed and look to be in their own worlds.

Finally the timer goes off, signaling that the time limit (20 minutes?) has been reached.

The obvious winner of the match pins and hip-thrusts against the loser and kisses her - trying to bring herself and her opponent to a final orgasm.

Both women seem to melt into each other. The loser, despite her defeat, seems to be feeling only pleasure.

Both women seem to have climaxed!

Finally the tired loser of the match looks like she's asleep - and not so disappointed at losing!

The winner slowly and tiredly gets off of her opponent, but takes her carefully into her arms - cradling her like a baby, and caressing her face.

"You two seemed to fight exactly as you wanted to." says the referee. "You were allowed to employ your skills of using pleasure as a weapon more than pain."

"It was a more honest and enjoyable match that way." says the winning wrestler.

"It should also be enjoyable for you since you won - both for you and your team. You fought a good match, and you should be proud of that." says the referee.

"She fought well too." says the winner. "I'm not convinced that I'm the better wrestler. That can't be determined by only one match when it's fought so closely. She's too good for me to say that I am better. But I'm glad she's that good. I'd rather have someone to wrestle who is so good - and even lose to her - than not wrestle her at all. I think she feels the same way."

The losing girl is still resting, but she has a slight smile on her face.

The two male wrestlers of both teams are off to the side - their mouths agape from what they just witnessed.
